

Visiting Scholar: Meglena Zlatkova

Department of Sociology and Ethnology, University “Paisii Hilendarski”, Plovdiv

Host: Petruta Mîndrut

Faculty of European Studies, “Babes-Bolyai” University Cluj Napoca

Our visiting lectures were out of the time of semester, but on the other hand it was even more useful because we had our ready research projects, we had our reflexions as way of work – advantages and disadvantages and we had a real base for discussions how to make a field research, how to involve students in it and we found many common topics that can be developed and how to continue to work together.

My visit in Cluj 6-8 of June 2004 and immediately after that Petruta Mindrut came in Plovdiv and we had one and the same program in the both two cases. I find it an advantage, because it gave us an opportunity to compare the results and even to work together in “real time”.